Potatoes, 25c Peck

With the basic price of wheat fixed as at present, flour is $13.70 a barrel. Then, if potatoes can be purchased at $1.20 a bushel, which is 2c a pound, it is an economy as well as a war saving to use potatoes as a substitute for flour. Even at Sc a pound, potatoes cost no more than flour. We have nice potatoes at 23c a peck. Fritz W. Jackson Co., Burre, Vt.
